CURRENTLY SHOWING AT THE MADRID THEATRE - 21622 SHERMAN WAY - CANOGA PARK, CA.

DEAR ART AFFICIANADOS:

Wanting to celebrate the New Year in style, I thought I'd create something really unusual. The above image is what came out of my imagination. I hired a carpenter to build the support following a sketch I made for him. Then the support was struggled into my studio. I didn't realize how big 96" really is until it lay stretched out before me. The next months were spent on hands and knees designing and implementing my ideas. I used oil paint, and the small square diagonal centerpiece is made from scrap metal. Here is what the centerpiece looks like:

With much sweat and determination, the piece was finally realized, and "voila", The Madrid Theatre in Canoga Park, CA offered to exhibit it along with some of my other abstractions. I hope if you're in the neighborhood of Canoga Park, CA. you'll visit my solo art show at this lovely theatre.
